

Privacy policy Invicta Sports

In this privacy statement, we explain what personal data is collected and for what purposes it is used.

Data Collection and Processing

When using our online services, you register certain information with us, which may include personal data. You can provide us with personal data both actively and passively. Active data provision refers to data that you enter yourself or, for example, send to us by e-mail. In addition, data can be stored automatically, sometimes without you being aware of it. In that case, the data is passively provided. In this privacy policy, you will find out exactly which actively and passively provided data is processed and for what purposes. All unnecessary data will be deleted. You can also request access to, modification of, or deletion of data yourself via the contact form on our website. To prevent abuse and/or fraud, we may ask you to identify yourself when you make such a request.

Email

If you fill out a contact or registration form on our website, or send us an e-mail, the data you send us will be kept for as long as the nature of the form or the content of your e-mail requires for complete processing.

Disclosure to third parties

We never provide your data to third parties, unless this is necessary in the context of an agreement you enter into with us or when this is required by law. In the event of suspected fraud or misuse of our website, we may pass on personal data to the competent authorities.

Customer

We store personal data that is necessary for the processing of your request. This includes your name, telephone number, address and date of birth. Your address details are linked to the specific communication. On simple request via e-mail, you can view your data or have it deleted: please use the contact form on our website.

Services from Google, Bing and other websites

On our website, we use certain services from Google, among others, which may require the use of cookies and other techniques - such as Google Analytics, Google AdWords and Webador - to keep track of how users use the website. The information obtained, including the address of your computer (IP address), will be transmitted to Google and Webador and stored by them. They use this information to track how the website is used, to provide us with reports about the website, and to provide advertisers with information about the effectiveness of their campaigns. Google and Webador may provide this information to third parties if Google or Webgo are required to do so by law, or to the extent that these third parties process the information on behalf of Google and Webador. We have no influence on this.

Click behaviour and visit data

We may maintain general visitor information about our online services. In this context, the IP address of your computer, a user name, the time of retrieval and the data transmitted by a visitor's browser may be recorded in particular and used for statistical analyses of visitor and click behaviour. We try to keep this data as anonymous as possible. This data will not be provided to third parties.

Use of cookies

Invicta Sports uses cookies to make your browsing experience easier and more pleasant and to better tailor the content of the websites to your needs and preferences. You can suppress the installation of cookies, but then some parts of our websites will not work or will not work optimally. If you continue to visit our websites without adjusting your cookie settings or clicking on the "Agree" link, we will assume that you accept the installation of cookies. Please refer to our cookie policy in the paragraphs below for more information on the use of cookies and the possibility to block cookies at any time.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small pieces of information that the website sends to your browser so that your browser can be recognized ("session cookie"). Cookies also ensure that visitors to the website can be identified on repeat visits to the website ("persistent cookie"). The cookies are written to the visitor's hard drive. Cookies may be set by the server of the website you are visiting or by partners with whom this website cooperates. Cookies only read the information set by the cookies themselves. The cookies do not have access to any other information. A cookie usually contains the name of the server that placed the cookie, an expiration date, and a unique number code. Cookies help to better tailor the website to the wishes and preferences of visitors. Cookies can also be used to personalize the content of a website or the advertisements on a website for visitors.

The Invicta Sports website uses the following cookies:

Necessary cookies

These cookies are essential in order to enable you to visit our websites and use certain parts of them. These cookies allow you, for example, to navigate between different parts of the website or, for example, to fill in forms. Even if you want to log in to any of the Invicta Sports website using your personal account, these cookies are necessary to securely verify your identity before we grant you access to your personal information. If you refuse these cookies, certain parts of the website will not work or will not work optimally.

Functional cookies

The functional cookies are the cookies that facilitate the functioning of our websites, make the visit more pleasant for the visitor and ensure that you get a more personalized browsing experience. These are, for example, the cookies that remember or keep track of your preferences.

Performance cookies

We use performance cookies to collect information about how visitors use our websites, with the aim of improving the content of our websites, adapting them more to visitors' expectations and increasing the ease of use of our websites.

Third-party cookies

The Invicta Sports website works with advertising cookies. During your visit to the website, your surfing behavior and your demographic and profile data will be processed anonymously in an advertising cookie. Advertisers on the website may also install advertising cookies. The information we collect from these advertising cookies is used to measure the effectiveness of the advertisements and to better tailor the advertisements to your possible interests.

Built-in content

To support our marketing and other media activities, the Invicta Sports website sometimes refers to other sites via a clickable link. Cookies may also be created when you visit these external sites. For more information about the creation of cookies on such sites, Invicta Sports recommends that you consult the privacy statement of these websites.

Cookie management

You can refuse the installation of cookies through the settings of your browser. The method for refusing cookies for the most commonly used browsers can be found on the following website: <https://www.aboutcookies.org/> You can also delete the cookies already installed from your computer or mobile device at any time.

Third-Party Websites

The Invicta Sports website may contain links or banners that point to the websites of third parties. This privacy statement does not apply to third-party websites that are connected to this website via such links. We cannot guarantee that these third parties will treat your personal information in a reliable or secure manner. We therefore recommend that you read the privacy statements of these websites before using them.

Changes to the privacy statement

We reserve the right to make changes to this statement. We therefore recommend that you consult this statement regularly so that you are aware of these changes.

Contact

Please contact us if you have any questions about this Privacy Statement.
